

Chiloquin Community Forest Health and Fuels Reduction Program

Do you own FORESTED/BRUSH-covered property in the Chiloquin area?

Are you concerned about WILDFIRE RISK or FOREST HEALTH?

What is it? The program is being offered through the USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service in collaboration with partnering organizations. The objective is to provide resources to private landowners to help them manage their woodland acres for wildfire resilient landscapes and productive forests.

What the program addresses:

- Properties that lie within the CIS project boundary
- Excessive brush
- Over-stocked trees/unhealthy forest stands

What it offers:

- Fuels reduction/defensible space
- Increased forest health
- Technical and/or financial assistance

If your property could benefit from this program, please contact the Klamath NRCS field office for more details.
