

Windermere Real Estate

Windermere has always focused on three basic principles: hire the best people; give them the best tools; create thriving communities. It's not rocket science, but it has worked pretty well for us for over 45 years.

Humble Roots, Big Ideas

When John Jacobi founded Windermere Real Estate in 1972, he had a vision for the way real estate should work: anticipate and respond to the needs of buyers and sellers, and support the communities you serve. While other real estate companies were focused on size and sales, his goal was to earn the respect of the communities where he and his agents worked and lived. More than four decades later, John Jacobi's humble beginnings have gone from a single office with eight agents to a network of 300 offices and more than 6,500 agents throughout the Western United States.
